FITTING TIPS

- Rock Off can be drilled and fixed to an Angle Bracket or a C Channel for mounting.
- When measuring the trim length that you need, when we refer to Brush trim, that is the exact length of the bristle. You will need to add the length of the backing to that measurement when considering overall length.
- Our customer feedback is that the brush is most effective when mounted with anywhere from 100mm to 200mm clearance from the road.
- Remember this is a plastic bristle brush, so needs to be mounted away from the exhaust pipe. Both the heat of the exhaust pipe and the hot fumes that come from it can melt the bristles.
- Rock Off can also be cut into sections and mounted under the caravan as a secondary protection zone for your caravan's pipework.
- If you are unsure about fitting this product we recommend you contact your local 4WD after-market specialist, trailer specialist or engineer/fitter who could give you some advice as to the best way to fit to your vehicle.
